WINTHROP BEGINS 1927-28 SESSION

President D. B. Johnson Welcomes Winthrop Daughters at Opening of College's 41st Year

IMPRESSIVE CHAPEL SERVICE

On Wednesday, September 14, Winthrop student body and faculty assembled for the first chapel exercises of the year.

According to his old custom, Dr. Johnson welcomed the old girls and greeted the freshman class. In a short talk he again instilled the ideals of Winthrop in the hearts of his audience.

Dr. Johnson said that this occasion was the 41st anniversary of his presidency of Winthrop College, and as being the 41st year he had stood before the Winthrop students on the opening day at chapel.

Although he had just recovered from a recent illness, Dr. Johnson made his opening speech to the students.

Since the new dormitory for the faculty had been built Dr. Johnson said that more girls were accepted than in any college then in the South.

He expressed the wish that the college would grow even larger in the coming years in order that all the young women of the state who wish to receive college training should find it at Winthrop.

Then touching every heart in the audience he recited a quotation from Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar" and told the students that they could help him put off the day when he would go to his long rest.

He concluded his talk, Dr. Johnson gave this motto to the Winthrop daughters, "Be true." Then, telling of the danger and waste of procrastination, he left the following thought: "Lost, between sunrise and sunset, one golden minute, set with a diamond."

"We believe in high scholarship," he said, "but above that is high character. Do all that is possible, but remember that one's chief aim should be to possess a Christian character."

Miss Elizabeth Carroll spoke for the Winthrop students, as follows: "What Can We Do to Prepare Ourselves to Live in a World of Progress?"

"Here at Winthrop we feel that a democratic form of government best expresses the spirit of the college and of the student body. Of course there must be laws and government where there are 2,000 people living together. The success of this government depends upon the attitude of every single girl."

"It seems to me that the formative steps to be taken in becoming a law-abiding citizen are as the rounds of a ladder. The first round may be to know the law, the second to have faith in the ideals of our institutions, believing and accepting them as true, obligatory, and beneficial, and recognizing spiritual principles as the basis of the law."

To mount the second round of the ladder, we must place confidence in the executives who have been selected to guide us. They are the rulers, but help us to be true. Perhaps you have heard it said often that true worth is in being and in doing good—that good birth is not in putting nor gaining but in the doing as we would be done by.

Therefore, let us co-operate with the executives; incur mutual help rather than selfish competition, and the work for all and for each.

In further preparation for becoming law-abiding citizens we find it necessary to resign ourselves to the absence of such privileges as we have been accustomed to, but are not desired now by those who execute for our personal development. Perhaps it may be unpleasant, but kicking will make it even the easier. Our vision is supreme, so limited that we look at the individual instead of at the universe. The whole is greater than the part; the whole is good for the part; the whole is for the benefit of the whole, and this then is really for the good of the whole.

Having done these things, we should have secured the ladder round by round and secured a high place as citizens, resolved to be law-abiding. Let us still be achieving, still pursuing, and learn that—

"The heart is a garden; and never a seed dropped into its fertile mold, grows and grows, be it thistle or rose, weed or blossom, its leaves unthought of."

Our thoughts are the seeds that grow to be the plants that shall live through eternity."

Miss Ruth Lockman then spoke for a few minutes, representing the Y. W. C. A.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT HOLDS FIRST MEETING

Dean Scudder Addresses Girls—Miss Carroll Presides and Makes a Brief Talk

The Student Government Association held its first monthly meeting, Thursday, September 15, in the college auditorium.

Miss Marion Turner, president-elect of the Student Government Association, presided at the meeting.

Miss Carroll introduced the members of the Student Government Board to the Student Body. Following the introduction Miss Carroll made a brief, interesting talk.

In her speech she asked the students to regard the members of the board as friends and helpers and not people to be avoided. She urged the students to regard law and strive to instill a different conception of Student Government among the Winthrop students.

An introduction by Miss Carroll, Miss Scudder, dean of women, gave an interesting, helpful talk.

Miss Scudder began her speech in a humorous manner and immediately gained the attention of her audience. After a brief greeting to the students, she spoke on the subject of "The Student Government."

She spoke of the "golden rule" of the student government, which is to treat others as you would be treated.

MASQUERS TO PRESENT "THE ROMANTIC AGE"

Strong Cast of Juniors to Appear Saturday, October 22, Under Direction of Miss Mills

FIRST PLAY OF THE SEASON

A twentieth century romance, "The Romantic Age" by A. A. Milne, is to be presented to us by the Junior class on Saturday night, October 22, at 8 p. m. in the college auditorium.

The play is under the direction of Miss Florence Mills. The cast includes:

Mr. Henry Knowle—Margaret Jackson.
Mrs. Mary Knowle (his wife)—Ruth Hare.

Melissande (his daughter)—Florence Epps.
Miss Mills (his niece)—Thelma Hodges.

Bobby Coote—Elytha Robinson.
Gervase Mallory—Mary Littlejohn.

Gertrude Sumner—Bonita Atkinson.
Erin—Rose Ellis.

Alma—Margaret I. sense.
Synopsis of scenes:
Act I—The hall of Mr. Knowle's house, evening.

Act II—A glade in the woods morning.
Act III—The hall of Mr. Knowle's house, morning.

Mr. Milne is the author of the well-known volume of child poems, "When We Were Young."

"The Romantic Age" was produced in its country first at the Gaiety Theatre in New York on November 17, 1922.

Musical will be furnished by the Winthrop College orchestra, under the direction of Mr. W. B. Roberts.

Gervase Mallory (played by Ruth Littlejohn) will wear an expensive masquerade costume rented from Mac & Son, Philadelphia costume shop.

The furniture for the first and third acts will be furnished by the Mass Furniture Company, Rock Hill.

The Winthrop chapter of the International Relations Club held its second meeting of the year on Wednesday, October 5, at 5 o'clock, in Curry Society Hall.

The business of the meeting was settled on an original and well planned program was carried out. This was as follows:

The Geneva Conference—Evelyn Odum, vice-president of I. R. C.
The Prince of Wales—Gladys E. Elen, secretary and treasurer.

President of the I. R. C. was Miss Mary Gordon, who presided over the meeting.

The Sacco-Vanzetti Case—Annie L. Root, president.

After this program, which had the peculiar significance of being presented by the officers of the club, a delightful social hour was spent in the Music Room of Johnson Hall, where tea and cakes were served.

ELLEN MANSHIP BUSINESS MEET

My Goodman Becomes Johnsonian Circulation Manager

Ellen Manship has recently been appointed business manager of The Johnsonian for the coming year.

Miss Manship has done the work on many committees and has proved herself very capable. She was last year a college marshal. The business manager was appointed by the faculty editor and the editor-in-chief, Lila Atkinson and Lucile Wharton were appointed assistant business managers. BEAUTIFUL RECEPTION GIVEN BY Y. W. C. A.

New Faculty Members and New Students Honored in Enjoyable Manner September 16

On Friday evening, September 16, from eight to ten, the Young Women's Christian Association welcomed the new girls and new members of the faculty at a very beautiful reception in Johnson Hall.

The reception rooms of Johnson Hall were decorated with roses and daisies artistically arranged in bowls, vases and baskets. The guests were dressed in white stationery at the doors and throughout the hall were the hostesses for the occasion.

The receiving line, consisting of Miss Ruth Lockman, president of the Y. W. C. A.; Dean and Mrs. J. P. Kinard, Mrs. Claire K. Grant, the Y. W. C. A. secretary; Miss Sara B. Marcus, Dean Scudder; Miss Elizabeth Carroll, who succeeds Miss Marion Turner as president of the Student Government Association; Miss Marion Turner, and Mrs. Young, were present.

After the guests were presented to those who were in the receiving line, cabinet girls asked them into the dining room, where iced cream was served.

An orchestra, with Julia Rogers at the piano, Mary Hammond, Martha McInnes, Frances Hovins, violin; Harold Lee, Donald, piano, saxophone, and Laura, violin, rendered a delightful musical program.

The students with the initial letter of their surnames included from A through I were invited to attend the reception between the hours 8 and 9 o'clock; those whose initial letter of their surnames was from L through Z were invited from 9 till 10 o'clock. There were nearly 200 guests to enjoy the charming hospitality of the Y. W. C. A. at this reception held in Johnson Hall.

BEAUTIFUL FACULTY HOME IS OCCUPIED

Joynes Hall, One of Dr. Johnson's Dreams Fulfilled, Is Opened For the First Time

NAMED FOR FORMER TRUSTEE

Joynes Hall, the beautiful new faculty home, was opened this fall for the first time. For some time Winthrop has felt the need of just such a building, and Dr. Johnson has always kept this in mind and worked incessantly to raise the necessary funds. Thus, Joynes Hall is the realization of another of "Debe's" goals.

On a bronze slab at the front entrance is the inscription:

Edward S. Joynes
Memorial Hall
Erected 1926.

Dr. Joynes was one of the founders and first trustees of Winthrop College. He served in this position from 1891 up until the time of his death in 1917. He was a Virginian by birth, but the last years of his life were spent in South Carolina, where he was a prominent professor at the South Carolina University. He also held professorships at the University of Virginia, Williams and Lee University, Washington and Lee University, Vanderbilt University and the University of North Carolina.

Dr. Joynes was a distinguished educator, a prominent public leader, and especially, normal education largely in Virginia, Tennessee and South Carolina. He was a member of the French and German are very extensively used. The land on which Joynes Hall now stands was given by him to Winthrop College.

Joynes Hall is situated just off the north entrance of the college, facing Lancaster Avenue. It is splendidly equipped and very up-to-date with all modern conveniences.

During the day, lots of inspection parties down town for Freshmen. Party for new faculty by Freshmen and advisory board.

Friday morning, Sunday school. Afternoon, evening, evening service, led by Freshmen who were former Girl Reserves.

Monday—Sunday Night.

Tuesday—Arrival of old girls. Open night in Johnson Hall.

Wednesday—Y. W. C. A. service. Ruth Lockman spoke on "Division of Youth."

Thursday—First Student Government meeting.

Friday—Y. W. C. A. reception. Miss Grant, Aitchison, secretary of the Y. W. C. A. at Iowa State Teachers' College, Cedar Falls, Iowa, met with the Y. W. C. A. cabinet at their second meeting this evening.

Dr. Joynes was a distinguished educator, a prominent public leader, and especially, normal education largely in Virginia, Tennessee and South Carolina. He was a member of the French and German are very extensively used. The land on which Joynes Hall now stands was given by him to Winthrop College.

Some of us belong to one of these organizations, some to another, some to none, and some several, according to our different abilities and our varying interests; but there is one organization in which every girl on our campus is able to serve and in whose work we believe every girl to be interested. This organization is the Young Women's Christian Association.

The program of the Y. W. C. A. is to "civilize Christianity on campus" through common search, worship and service. It is the hope of the association that in seeking together fellowship with the Y. W. WINTHROP BEGINS
ITS 1927-28 SESSION

"The sight of our president inspires me to say something which comes from the heart of every one here this morning. All hail to Debe," the backbone of Winthrop College, and the very heart of our Young Women's Christian Association!"Listen to our friend the Dutchman. 'Man wants but little here below, de boot vone dime said; dere leete dat man he don't vant, I tink
he meant instead.' Let us translate this into the Winthrop girls' language: 'Winthrop girls have but leete here below, de boot vone dime
said; dere leete that Winthrop girls don't have, I tink he meant instead.' So it is here at Winthrop College, as you have already seen
—there is everything to make us to make us learned, to make us strong physically to make us widen and strengthen our social life, to make our moral and spiritual self deeper and more glowing—yes, even the things to make us beautiful, inside and out. In fact, the maker of Winthrop College, our beloved Debe, has so worked and planned with the Divine Maker of this universe that we may have this beautiful place in which to spend four years of our lives."Little children sometimes ask their mothers, 'What makes you do that?' God makes us for a very definite purpose. What are we going to do with the materials He puts into our making? We are in a world of truth, of reality, a world of understanding (we seek it), one of wisdom instead of illusion; one of them is buried during our stay here, but that each will bring forth
an hundred fold."Let us look at this little word
'make' that pushes us into college.
That urges us from within to do the things we do; the little word is stuffed with meaning—may we get some of this meaning: M is for manner, don't forget 'em, girls; you've brought 'em along, now we use them
each day. Also, it stands for meekness and malice, but this we translate into womanliness. A is for ambition—hitch your wagon to the stars; K—is for know. You'll bump into them here. Strength they will add each year. E—is for everything and everybody—earnest, energetic, eternally happy."Then, to strengthen still further our moral and Christian standards
each girl is to be the maker of herself. We have wonderful teachers and good equipment. But that force within yourself alone can bring forth your best. These teachers are always willing to help, but remember, they, too, help those who help themselves. 'In numbers there is strength,' we say. We have the strength of two thousand here this year. If each girl can be a Sir Galahad, and have it said of her, 'Her strength is as the strength of ten, because her heart is pure,' then we shall number ten times the two thousand, or twenty thousand strong. However, it is by developing our characters individually—or our individual characters—that we may strengthen the moral and Christian standing of Winthrop another year. Very definite and practical ways of doing this are through attending our Bible Study Courses, Morning Watch, Wednesday evening services, Sunday school and church. And especially do we emphasize the spirit of worship in our daily devotions here in chapel,
and our Sunday evening services."And, finally, here at Winthrop,
the best of life is ours, if we can but see and hear. It is in the spirit of play, in the atmosphere of work.
It is everywhere. It is back of all we see and all we hear. It is life.
It is God—Listen!"Miss Leckman was followed by Miss Grace Kinder, president of the Senior class:"When I was told last night that I was to make a talk this morning
on 'What Highest Quality of Leadership Can the Senior Class Contribute this Year?'—I asked myself
—Well, just what does leadership mean?""First, I realized that a leader is one who is always thinking ahead of the crowd yet with them. As the Senior class is looked to for guidance and leadership, I realized that it is up to us, as a class, to think ahead of the crowd and bring our influence to bear on the others.
Winthrop charges us to be leaders.
But as leaders we can influence the progress of this state of ours. The college sense of an unbroken stream of leaders, so it is up to the Seniors to set an example of true leadership. But this will not be hard, for, with such a great leader
as Dr. Johnson ever guiding us, nothing will be difficult. To us true leadership means a passion for purpose, the craving for a goal and that goal is to take the initiative in giving ourselves as a class to absolute loyalty to the highest we know in this campus, whether it be in self-government, athletics, or religion. With this purpose in mind,
we hope to spread our influence throughout the college, and create the desire in all to live up to the highest in our college life and in doing so raise our campus standards.Miss Lena Miles Weaver, representing the Freshman class, thenmade a short talk on "What We Are to Do."
"In behalf of the Freshman class,
I want to say that we deem it an honor to be numbered among the Winthrop Daughters of today. In our journey through the land of knowledge, we have at last attained that mile-post which has always been the goal of our highest ambitions and desires. Beyond this mile-post are the letters C-O-L-L-E-G-E.
—bright and beautiful like God would have them be. So we, the class of '31, fully realize that we are indeed a privileged few, and will show to the president, to the faculty, and to you, the student body that we are here to make the most of our glorious opportunities."V. W. C. A. HAS DISTINCT

HILARIOUS MEETING

Miss Harby also announced that there would be very strict rules this year governing attendance of members. Any member who is absent from three consecutive meetings or fails to pay her dues will be automatically dropped from the Dramatic Club roll. It was decided that meetings would be held every three weeks.

WINTHROP POETRY SOCIETY
HOLDS ITS FIRST MEETINGThe Winthrop Poetry Society met
at the Students' Building, on Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock.
It was strictly a business meeting,
to discuss plans for a better organization, and to draw up new rules for membership. Miss Helen Tillison, president of the society, made a brief talk, in which she showed her enthusiasm for this year's program.New Law School at Yale

Find the missing Factor!
Write a Parker Pen Ad and Win a Prize![You do not have to own a pen to enter this contest.]

First Prize . . . $100
Second Prize . . . 75
Third Prize . . . 25

Seven Equal Prizes
(fourth to tenth)
Choice of Parker Duofold Junior Pen
or Lady Duofold Pen

1. Contestants must be duly registered students of any college or high school. Only one entry permitted from each contestant.
2. Entries are to be mailed before October 25th, 1927, to—Control Judges, The Parker Pen Company, Intermittent, Wisconsin.
3. Judges will be R. B. Henry, Margaret Owen and Brock, Carson, Price
Scott & Co., Chicago; H. B. Fairchild, Adv.

4. Prizes will be awarded to the ten having highest score. In the event of a tie, equal prizes will be awarded to both of all contestants tied.
5. All contributions submitted become the property of The Parker Pen Company,
and no entries will be returned to the sender.

Improvements unknown until recently are introduced in the sides 12 on Pencils and Desk Sets.

How would you advertise this pen? Give us your ideas. Write an ad and win a prize.

Seven well known advantages of the Parker Duofold are told here. The new one—announced April 1st—Factor number 8—is missing. If you find it—if you write an advertisement including it with the following seven—you may win as much as $100 cash or one of nine smaller prizes.

Here
Are 7 Factors!
Can you find number 8?

1. Pressureless Point—starts and writes at feather-weight touch
—extra strong because of extra thick gold. But tempered so it yields to any hand yet never loses shape.

2. Non-Breakable Barrel—now made of Parker Permanite—28% lighter than rubber formerly used —hand sized, and perfectly balanced.

3. Instant Ink Flow—tip always moist. Capillary action combines with gravity to produce pressureless writing.

4. Over-Size Ink Capacity—writes longer on one filling.

5. Duo-Sleeve Cap—a positive safeguard against leakage when cap is kept on tight.

6. Press-Button Filler—concealed inside the barrel out of sight, out of harm's way.

7. Beauty Rivaling Colorful Jewels—lustrous Black-tipped
barrels in Jade, Lapis Lazuli, Mandarin Yellow, or Lacquer-
Red. Also plain Black and Gold.

8. The Missing Factor? . . . What is it?

Try Parker Duofold at your dealer's and ask him about the missing factor. You do not have to buy unless you can't resist. Either way—write an Ad and win a prize. Note conditions of contest.

The Place for Your Savings

THE HOME OF THRIFT

The place for your savings is with the financial institution which has the following strong points:

- (1) Where loans are made only to shareholders, to whom, if they have sufficient security, it is easy to say yes; and if they have not, it is not hard to say no.
- (2) Where loans are made on first mortgage real estate security—first mortgage on homes, the safest of all mortgage loans.
- (3) Where the profits of the business are equitably shared by all shareholders. Where the borrowers are given the fairest terms and every consideration not inconsistent with the rules of the institution.
- (4) Where the shareholders receive the greatest safety and also a higher rate of interest than is paid by other financial institutions.
- (5) Where the secretary-treasurer is bonded for the faithful discharge of his duties in handling the funds of the association.

Surely an ASSOCIATION so managed is a safe place to put your surplus money each month. Such have been, now are, and will continue to be the characteristics of the

Cutting Out the Prattle
If no one talked of what he does not understand," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "the silence would become unbearable."

Bad Dream
Doctor (examining life insurance prospect)—Do you ever talk in your sleep?

Prospect—"No, but I often talk in other people's sleep."

Doctor—"But how can that be?" Prospect—"I am a college professor."

College Humor
"Ellen: 'What's the name of the piece they're playing?'"

Irving: "What Does It Matter?" Ellen: "Oh, I just wondered."

We'd have to meet the old clock on the stairs if it ever took a notion to run down.

"Well, such a thing never entered my head till this minute!" exclaimed Goldash, as David opened up with his slingshot.

"Why is the police station a good place to stop?"

"Because it's arrest room."

Prof.: "When was Rome built?" Student: "At night."

Prof.: "Where did you get that answer?" Student: "Well, Rome wasn't built in a day."

"Do you know anything about the sun's motions?"

"Sure!" I stayed awake one entire night trying to figure it out, and finally the whole thing dawned on me."

CHURCHES WELCOME FRESHMEN
Rock Hill Churches Give Receptions to New Winthrop Daughters

In order to welcome the Freshmen to Rock Hill, the churches of the city, in co-operation with the Y. W. C. A., entertained them at a number of receptions conducted simultaneously, Saturday night, September 10.

Freshmen, Commissioners and Ask Me Girls were ready to help the crowd of Freshmen who met at Johnson Hall, and together they walked to the various churches. They were asked to go to the reception given by the church to which they belonged. The two Presbyterian churches entertained jointly; all other receptions were held in the respective churches or in the homes of members.

At the receptions a hearty welcome was accorded the newcomers, refreshments were served, and the evening was thoroughly enjoyed. This is the first time anything of the kind has been attempted and the initial venture was deemed a great success.

The trouble with advice is that so much of it is bad.

MARGARET SLOAN'S SISTER WINS DANCING CONTEST

Margaret Sloan, a Winthrop student, has received an interesting bulletin published on board the S. S. Leviathan, in which an account of her sister, Miss Elizabeth Sloan, was written up as winning first place in a dancing contest held on the ship.

Miss Sloan and Miss Margaret Bruce, a former Winthrop girl, were on their way to attend the American Legion convention in Paris. They expect to spend some time in France before returning home.

Both Miss Sloan and Miss Bryce are from Winthorpe.

No Matter How Much You Learn

YOU KNOW ONLY SO MUCH mind will stop you just in proportion to the requirements you place upon it. If you give it a chance. You can always remember if you train your mind to serve you when and as you want it to serve. You can think and talk better and clearer with training that will take but a few minutes of your time. Prof. M. V. Atwood, formerly of the N. Y. College of Education at Albany, and Editor of Utica Herald-Democrat, writes: "I have all memory courses and none is the best of lot. You owe it to the public to publish it in book form." In response to this and other demands, this course has been issued in a handy little volume to fit your pocket, and the cost is but Three Dollars, postpaid, until December, when Five Dollars will be the price.

Why God Made Hell
Do you know why? If you don't, you should learn NOW. One reviewer has said: "When Dante went to Hell he must have stored each of the nastiest things he remembered for Dr. Semmler to interjectively and fearfully bring to the reader's notice. Dr. Semmler's name read it. Why not you? This book, postpaid, $2.00. Write for it. LIFE AND HERALD, Johnson City, N. Y."
